

Jennifer Bisceglie
President and Chief Executive Officer, Interos Solutions, Inc.

Jennifer Bisceglie is the President and CEO of Interos Solutions, Inc., a supply chain and vendor risk management (SCRM and VRM) platform company that serves the public and commercial sectors. Named the AT&T Innovator of the Year in 2015, Interos is renowned for its expertise in eco-system assurance and monitoring, supplier risk assessments and continuous monitoring. As such, with over 20 years' experience in the industry, Jennifer is a sought-after expert on the impact of supply chain risk in the U.S. and global economies.

She is the chairperson for the Public Awareness and Outreach Working Group for Virginia Governor McAuliffe's First Cyber Security Commission; an active member of Women Impacting Public Policy (WIPP), where she served as the chairperson of the Board from 2010-2016; and CEO of Quantum Leaps, which ignites global competitiveness, GDP growth and the innovation capacity of countries around the world by engaging their single most underutilized resource—women entrepreneurs. As CEO for Quantum Leaps, Jennifer leads the strategic vision of the organization, collaborates with partners and sponsors, and drives forward an agenda focused on the importance of a healthy country economy using all resources, including growth-oriented women entrepreneurs. She also has the distinct honor of representing the U.S. as a delegate to the Women's 20 (W20), the most recent engagement group to the G20, participating in Turkey's, China's, and Germany's Presidencies.

Jennifer is the receipt of various awards including the 2014 Smart Brava Award, American Express Open Government Contractor of the Year 2010; Enterprising Women's 2009 Enterprising Woman of the Year award; as well as the Washington Business Journal's 2009 Women Who Mean Business award.

Ms. Bisceglie has not previously testified before the Commission.